ENGINEER OFFERS AID TO TAREYTON VILLAGE PROBLEM

A possible solution to the sewage disposal problem, which has bottlenecked construction of homes in Tareyton Village tract at Decoto, was offered this week by Harry Goodridge, engineer for the Union Sanitary District and the Alvarado Sanitary District.

Construction has been held up for the past three months while the Middlefield Company, developers of the tract, attempted to devise some method of providing a privately-owned disposal plant. County officials have rejected the proposals for the privately-owned plant on the basis that it might become a burden on taxpayers.

ANNEXATION POSSIBLE

Goodridge's letter to The Register, offering an entirely new approach to the problem, states:

"Having read with interest your article on the front page of the issue of October 6, indicating the delays in home construction in Tareyton Village, I am prompted to propose a solution for the construction of the sewers.

"This area could be annexed to the Decoto Sanitary District (under conditions) by the payment to the consolidated district of the amount that a separate disposal plan would cost. The consolidated district could then proceed to build an outfall sewer westerly on Jarvis Road to connect with Union Sanitary District plant, now under construction. Decoto District and Union District could consolidate and use the same plant.

"Costs could be defrayed by the amount given by the owners of Tareyton Village, together with payment to be made by property benefitted along the outfall sewer, such as on Jarvis Road, Alvarado-Niles Road, Alvarado-Centerville Road and the portion of the road in the vicinity of Union Sanitary District.

MEETS STATE APPROVAL

"This may sound complicated but it is not new. The State Board of Health has previously, through its engineer, indicated the necessity for Decoto to dispose of its effluent in a more satisfactory manner.

"Decoto will in the near future, if not now, feel the need for plant extension. The soil will take the TOWNSHIP'S LARGEST RETAIL STORE . . . Shown above is the new supermarket of Safeway Stores which is nearing completion on Fremont Avenue in Centerville. The spacious market will open its doors to the public for the first time on Thursday, October 19. A parking lot, made to accommodate 70 automobiles, is located to the left of the store.

Safeway Supermarket Will Open Thursday

Washington Township's largest retail establishment, the new Safeway Store on Fremont Avenue in Centerville, will open its doors next Thursday, Oct. 19. Located for convenience to food shoppers throughout the township, the new store, 75x150 feet in size, with a square footage of 11,250, provides an adjoining parking lot with room for more than 70 cars.

Jack Coley, long-time resident of Centerville, will be the manager of the new store. His association with Safeway goes back to 1931, when he started as a part-time food clerk. Thomas Noble will be head butcher. A staff of 12 to 18 men and women will assist him and Mr. Coley in the operation of the store.

The new building is of concrete block construction, veneered with brick. Design of the building, which is fireproof, was carefully planned by Engineer Matt Lehman of Redwood City, with consideration of topography, climate and local practice. It was erected by George J. Bianchi, San Jose contractor.

TILE FLOORS

The flooring used in the store is asphalt tile, which, in addition to its attractive appearance, offers ideal foot comfort for both shoppers and clerks. The walls are washable marlite tile. Panels of fibre-board are used for the ceiling, providing both heat and sound insulation.

The new store has a modern air-conditioning system to maintain an even temperature during both winter and summer months. Lighting is by fluorescent fixtures, so integrated as to give excellent light in every part of the building.

An intercommunication system linking vital points in the store will aid the personnel in giving service to its customers.

There are five convenient check stands especially designed to give

NEW LIBRARIAN AT NILES BRANCH

Mrs. Evangeline Koehl of Pleasanton this week accepted the position of provisional librarian of the county branch at Niles, pending a permanent post upon successfully passing the examination Alameda County gives for junior librarians.

Mrs. Koehl, a graduate of Western Reserve University of Cleveland, Ohio, was employed as a librarian in the Cleveland city library, was later assistant county librarian of Cuyahoga County Library (Ohio), and also served as children's librarian in a branch library at Indianapolis.

Prior to coming to Pleasanton two years ago, she and her husband, retired, lived in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

If everything goes according to plan, Mr. and Mrs. Koehl expect to eventually move from Pleasanton to Niles.

Mrs. Koehl succeeds Miss Elaine Howe at the Niles Branch. Miss Howe left last week-end to take a position as librarian at Mather Field, Sacramento.

TWO CENTERVILLE BUSINESSES SOLD

Two Centerville garages changed ownership during the past week.

The Santos Brothers garage, Chrysler-Plymouth agency owned and operated by John and Joe Santos for the past 18 years, has been sold to the Edgren Motor Company. Lloyd Edgren, who together with his father and two brothers, has operated a garage and car agency in Pleasanton since 1929, will operate the Centerville agency.

Mr. Edgren said this week that the staff at the garage will remain the same and the service and repair department will continue operation.

Operaton of the Midway Garage, owned by the Amaral Brothers on the Centerville-Alvarado highway, has been taken over by Henry J. Bauman. Mr. Bauman, who was formerly in the auto parts business in Pittsburg, has been awarded the Dodge and Plymouth automobile and Dodge truck agency. He plans to open a service and repair department in conjunction with the agency.

KARL MILLER IS NEW CUBMASTER

Karl Miller of Oak Street this week took over the leadership of the Centerville Cub Scouts, succeeding Richard Mendonca who served for the past two years, and who will now assume the duties of assistant Cubmaster. Manuel Silveira will also serve as an assistant.

The Pack now consists of 31 boys and is operating with the cooperation of several den mothers. New den mothers for this year include Mrs. Gerald Meekins of Pine Street, Mrs. Ernest Frei of Central Avenue, Mrs. George Azevedo of Emerson Street and Mrs. George Kay and Mrs. Bernard Vail who have served faithfully during the past year.

At present, one more den mother is needed. Anyone who wishes to become a den mother may contact the Cubmaster or his assistants.

The Indian theme has been chosen for the month of October. Pack Night will be held on October 30 at the Centerville Elementary School. At that time skits will be presented and crafts exhibited. Parents and friends of the Cubs are invited to attend.

COMMUNITY CHEST PARTY OCTOBER 19

The Community Chest received a boost this week with the offer of "Pop" White to donate the use of his Roller Haven Skating Rink at Niles for one evening.

Mrs. Gertrude Enos, chairman of the campaign in Niles, has selected Thursday, October 19, as the evening for the Community Chest skating party and all proceeds from the party will be added to the Chest fund.

"We are indeed grateful to Mr. and Mrs. White for this splendid gesture," Mrs. Enos said yesterday, "and, we are hopeful that we have a good turnout at the party."

In the meantime volunteer workers have been engaged in the final stages of soliciting funds for the many participating organizations dependent upon the Chest for operating funds.

Just how much more money is needed to attain the goal of $7,525 could not be ascertained from campaign officials this week.

NEW OWNER FOR NEW CITY MARKET

Manuel E. Duarte and Alfred King, co-owners of the New City Market, First Street, Niles, have announced the sale of the market to Harold Low of Los Angeles.

Mr. Low took over possession and operation of the market Monday and announced that he would add a complete line of fresh meats in the near future. He is an experienced grocer, having been in the grocery business in Los Angeles for the past 13 years.

Mr. Low said this week that he will continue the same hours at the store, from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., but would also be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sundays.

Mr. Duarte, who has been in the grocery business in Niles most of his life, has operated the New City Market since 1942. Mr. King became a co-owner in the business last year.

LOYALTY OATH FOR ELECTION OFFICERS

A new ritual will take place on Tuesday, November 7, in all of the polling places before the election officials can hand out any ballots.

Patterson traced the history of the district since its formation in 1914 and the problems which face the directors at the present time.

VICIOUS SENTINEL . . . This silent monster stands guard in one community of Washington Township. When you think you know where it is located, telephone The Register, Niles 3261 or 3271, after 9 a.m. today (Friday) and if you are either the first or twentieth person to call and give the right answer you will win a cash award. —Register Photo

ORPHAN ADOPTED BY LIONS CLUB

The Centerville Lions Club, constantly on the lookout for worthwhile projects to sponsor, at its meeting Tuesday evening formally adopted an orphan.

The orphan will make his home with a different member of the club during each two weeks between meetings.

The members draw lots at each meeting and the Lion whose name is drawn takes the little fellow home with him for two weeks and is responsible for his welfare.

An alternative is provided for those members who are fearful that their wives might not approve of the extra work of another mouth to feed. They are permitted to increase the welfare fund of the club and ask that another name be drawn.

The little fellow has been named "Silent Sam," a rather odd name, but then who ever heard of a duck talking.

He is now in residence at the Arthur Belshaw home in Centerville.

MYSTERY PICTURE 'STUMPS' MANY IN REGISTER CONTEST

The Register's mystery picture in last week's "Guess Where" contest, the toughest yet to appear in the popular series, stumped nearly one-third of the contestants who attempt to identify it.

First to telephone and correctly identify the picture as the big incinerator of the Claude T. Lindsay Company at Decoto was Mrs. Ed Enos of Niles.

Winner of the second cash prize, as the twentieth person to telephone the correct answer, was John Meneze, R.F.D. Box 101, Newark.

CONTEST POPULAR

Twelve of the 43 persons who had telephones their answers before 4 p.m. Friday failed to correctly identify the subject of the picture and its location. Many guessed it to be the monument atop Mission Peak.

Right or wrong, the contestants who telephoned stated that they were enjoying the guessing game and hoped that it would continue.

The Register photographer has been busy snooping around the township, off the beaten path of course, taking pictures of places every townshipite has had an opportunity to see . . . and forget. Some of them will be comparatively easy to identify, while others will undoubtedly prove difficult to many. But, win or lose, we feel that all of us will know our township a little better by the time the contest closes.

A PUZZLER THIS WEEK

This week's picture is a "riproaring" one, and one that not one person who lives in the township can deny having seen. Recall where it's located, telephone The Register, Niles 3261 or 3271 after 9 a.m. today (Friday) and you may win $2.50, if you are the first or twentieth to correctly identify the picture.

The first twenty persons who correctly identified last week's picture were: Mrs. Edward Enos, Niles; Mrs. R. T. Henderson, Niles; Manuel Swartz, Niles; Albert Perez, Niles; Betty Lopez, Decoto; Rosalyn Hays, Mission San Jose; Mrs. Brown, Niles; Mrs. Mary Hunt, Niles; Arthur Duarte, Niles; Jack McClellan, Hayward; Harry Cesari, Niles; Mae Freitas, Newark.

Mrs. Leon Orcutt, Niles; Oliver Cordeniz, Niles; Erle Hygelund, Centerville; Mrs. Frank Cardoza, Irvington; Ida Silva, Decoto; Mrs. Peter Quartaroli, Niles; Mrs. William H. Chivers, Niles. and John Meneze, Newark.

CONTRACT GRANTED FOR NEW POST OFFICE AT NEWARK

Newark will have a new post office building by January 1, it was announced this week by Postmaster Julia Harris.

Mrs. Harris revealed that the post office department had approved the bid submitted by Mrs. Grace Gygax of Newark and construction is to get under way immediately with R. A. Griffin, Irvington contractor, as the builder.

Mrs. Gygax stated that the building will be erected on Sycamore Street directly behind the Stop and Shop market operated by her sons, Frank and Paul Gygax. The buildng will resemble the new Centerville post office in appearance, with stucco and tile front. Parking facilities for postal trucks and employees will be provided at the rear of the building. The contract provides that the building be completed by January 1.

LARGER QUARTERS

The new office will have 2158 square feet of floor space, as compared with approximately 1700 square feet in the present building. There will be a 25-foot separation between the post office and Stop and Shop to allow for future expansion of the grocery building.

Mrs. Harris, postmaster for the past 16 years, stated yesterday that the contract climaxes a campaign which she inaugurated in 1944 for a new post office building. She revealed that there will be room for about 600 lock boxes in the new building, nearly double the number now provided in the present building.

IN FORMER BANK QUARTERS

For the past 20 years the post office has been housed in the former bank building at the intersection of Thornton and Dairy Avenues.

The staff at the office, in addition to Mrs. Harris, includes Mary Lotti, civil service secretary; Evelyn Zaballos and Thelma McNieve, clerks; Ray Roush, rural carrier, and Joseph Martin, mail messenger.

$33,000 SCHOOL BONDS APPROVED

Niles voters last Thursday approved the issuance of $33,000 in bonds against the Niles School District by a vote of 109 for the bonds and 17 against.

Of the sum voted, $27,000 will go for the purchase of a 13-acre school building site south of Niles adjoining the Ellsworth Orchard tract.

The remaining $6,000 authorized by the bond election will constitute a reserve fund. This amount of bonds authorized may not be issued if the money is not required.

With the ever increasing enrollment at the local school the present plant is operating at full capacity and the board members deemed it necessary to acquire a site for the future construction of another grammar school building.

THE PIED PIPERS OF CENTERVILLE

An eerie tale of murder at midnight, deep in the heart of an apricot orchard, was related this week by Joseph Shepherd and Bill Clark, neighbors residing across from the high school in Centerville.

The two men were summoned into the night by the sounds of a struggle between their homes. They found a cat engaged in deathly combat with a large rat. Both men dashed back into their homes for combat equipment. Clark reappeared with a gun and Shepherd with a flashlight.

The ensuing chase after the injured rodent led the men deep into the nearby orchard where the prey was finally caught, and Clark administered the coup de grace.

After hearing the two men relate their night's adventure with great arm-spreading measurements of their victim, Centervillites have expressed belief that Shepherd's flashlight must have been equipped with a magnifying lense.

Here's to Your Health

By DR. JAMES C. MALCOLM
Health Officer, Alameda County Health Department

Do you remember the last time your youngster had an immunization for diphtheria? Do you remember whether it was a single shot or a series of three shots? Did the injection also include tetanus and whooping cough?

The chances are that unless you have made a written record of this information you will not be able to answer these questions. Yet, they are important to the health of your children.

The date it was given is important because immunization protection must be kept up to date until a youngster has had at least a complete series of three injections and two boosters. The number of injections is important so that your doctor will know which injection your child is ready for. Your physician needs to know whether the injection was for diphtheria alone or combined with whooping cough or tetanus so that he can determine how much additional protection your child needs.

As you can tell from the rapid growth of our county, many families move one or more times before their children are very old. This means a new physician and a new school. Both want to know whether a youngster has enough protection against diphtheria because they know that if children are protected we will eliminate diphtheria in our communities and in our schools.

You can see why written health records have become so important. Many parents are attaching them to the birth certificates of their children so that when a youngster enters school, moves to a new town or visits another doctor, the needed information is available.

NEW PHONE BOOKS REVEAL INCREASE

Reflecting the continued rapid growth in number of telephone subscribers, the new October 1950 Alameda County telephone directory, now being distributed, shows an increase of nearly 15 per cent in alphabetical listings over the previous issue, according to K. K. Kenchelian, Pacific Telephone manager.

Listings in the new green-covered book which serves all of Alameda County exclusive of the East Bay zone, now total 21,048, 2,533 more than in the January 1950 edition, said Kenchelian.

Kenchelian requested subscribers to be sure to use the new directories for looking up telephone numbers, rather than previous issues, since during the past year many telephone numbers have been changed. He reminded users, however, to remove valuables such as savings bonds and records which may have been stored between the pages, before getting rid of the old books.

NAVY OFFERS NEW TRAINING PROGRAM

The navy has announced that all male high school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible to apply for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps which gives a full four year, government sponsored, college education at one of the 52 colleges and universities throughout the nation which have naval ROTC units.

Young men desiring to participate in the program must file an application for the test prior to November 18. Application blanks are available at the U. S. Navy recruiting station, City Hall, 835 East 14th Street, San Leandro. The test will be given on December 9 in 550 cities in all of the states.

Candidates selected are permitted to indicate the college they wish to attend and the navy department bears the expense of tuition, books, and the normal fees required by the college; and in addition, provides the student with $50 per month living allowance.

In return, the student is obligated to participate in naval drills and cruises, and if qualified upon graduation to accept a commission in the regular navy or marine corps. After two years of active duty, he may elect to transfer to the reserves and return to civilian life or may request retention in the regular service.

Students enrolled in the program will be deferred from induction under the Selective Service Act, pending completion of their academic course.

THE TOWNSHIP CAN DO IT AGAIN

During World War II Washington Township made something of a record for itself by the generous contribution of blood for our fighting men abroad. Many individuals gave as much as sixteen and eighteen pints of blood.

Again the residents of Washington Township are being called upon as blood donors. Our fighting men in Korea need whole blood. Because of the proximity to the fighting front, this whole blood must come from the bay area, as a matter of expediency.

Thus, once more, residents of Washington Township can prove their patriotism and can give more than lip service to the phrase, "I wish I could do something for our boys in Korea."

You CAN do something. You can become a blood donor. If you have not yet received a card from Red Cross headquarters in Oakland, asking you to become a blood donor, you can volunteer. Phone GLencourt 2-2840 for an appointment. Do it TODAY.

WHEN THEY COME TO YOUR DOOR

Door-to-door canvassers work under trying and often irritating circumstances, no matter what cause they are espousing. People are prone to resent being sold anything, even if it's such a good thing as the Community Chest.

For that reason those in our township who have accepted the positions as door-to-door campaign solicitors for the current Community Chest drive are not only hardy souls, but they are our true civic-minded citizens, and deserve the highest praise from those of us who sit back and "let George do it."

When they come to our doors, let us not greet them with indifferent and evasive replies such as "Well—maybe tomorrow." It would be a refreshing experience for them to be greeted with a welcoming smile and a "Yes! I'll be glad to contribute."

The canvasser gets no pay. He works on his own time. He is WORKING FOR US.

There are no arguments needed to defend Community Chest. Everyone knows we couldn't get along without it. But when we give, let us give graciously. Our door-to-door canvassers will appreciate it.

HEALTH EMPLOYEES PREFER TOWNSHIP

That Washington Township is a healthy place to live is borne out by the fact that five of the members of the staff of the Alameda County Health Department make their home here.

Dr. James C. Malcolm, county health officer, is not certain whether his staff prefers the climate here or the metropolitan living, but he is sure that when he wants to reach many of his staff after working hours he needs a Washington Township directory.

Mrs. Laura Mayer, a native of Niles, is well known as a receptionist and secretary at the Centerville Health office.

Mrs. Edna Ebright, public health nurse in the Hayward office, has been a resident of Niles for many years, and until recently was assigned to the Centerville district office.

Miss Amy Hiraishi, one of the newest employees of the department, lives with her family in Irvington and is a clerk in the San Leandro office. She is a recent graduate of Washington Union High School.

Miss Margaret Hansen, public health nurse, who has been working in the township for the past year, has recently moved to Irvington.

Most recent township resident from the staff is Carl Miller, sanitarian, recently assigned to the Centerville district office. Mr. Miller joined the department this summer after graduation from the University of California in Los Angeles. He and his wife have moved to an apartment in Centerville.

IRVINGTON STAGES REALISTIC FIRE DRILL

A realistic fire drill, held in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, was staged Tuesday by the Irvington Fire Department and the Irvington Elementary School.

At 1:30 p.m. Tuesday the siren at the fire station was sounded and ten seconds later the fire alarm was rung in the classrooms of the school.

The 350 students of the school marched from their classrooms in orderly fashion and were clear from all buildings in 31 seconds. Exactly 45 seconds after the first alarm had sounded the firemen were on the roof of the school building with their fire hose, and the children stood in ranks on the baseball field.

Following the surprise drill, the students were marched to the bleachers at the ball diamond and Fire Chief Alfred Peixoto introduced the members of the fire department, Herb Woods, Ken Leathers, Walter Connolly, Edw. L. Rose, Vernon Leal, A. E. Alameda, Step Raymond, Walter Roethlin, Ben Cramer and William Rose.

Edw. Rose gave a short talk on fire prevention, telling the students what they could do to help prevent fires and how to act in the event of an emergency involving fire.

Chief Peixoto announced that the fire department is sponsoring an essay contest for students of the sixth seventh and eighth grades. Trophies will be presented on Wednesday, Oct. 18, to the two students whose essays are judged the most outstanding.

Judges for the contest are Chief Fred Rogers and Assistant Chief Frank Madruga, Centerville, and Chief Joseph Pashote, Newark.

HUSKIES HOST TO CAMPBELL IN SCVAL CLASH TONIGHT

The Washington Huskies, stinging from their first league defeat last Friday, will meet the Campbell grid squad in a S.C.V.A.L. clash on the home field tonight (Friday).

The Puppies will meet the Campbell reserves in a curtain-raiser scheduled for 6 p.m. Coach Irving Hird's lads will be out after their third consecutive victory of the season, having downed San Francisco Poly reserves and the Santa Clara lightweights.

In last week's league opener at Santa Clara the Huskies lost a hard-fought heartbreaker 6 to 0.

The defeat came in the closing minutes of the game following a 20-yard pass and a 30-yard end sweep. Washington did not seriously threaten to score.

In the preliminary game the Washington B's scored a 13 to 0 victory. The first Puppy score came in the last minute of the first half with Jess Martinez gathering in Coco Rivera's 20-yard pass and galloping 50 yards for a touchdown. Rivera booted the extra point and the half ended with the Puppies leading 7 to 0.

The final Washington tally was added by Rivera on a 50-yard sprint in the fourth quarter.

ORCHESTRA ELECTS OFFICERS

The Niles School Orchestra elected the following officers this week to serve for the ensuing school year: President, Kenneth Vieira; vice-president; Craig Bellati; secretary, Bill Batman, and treasurer, Clifford Dias.

The first printing press was imported into this country in 1639.

Most folks probably think of a corporation like ours in terms of a name . . . "Standard Oil Company of California."

Actually, a company is people . . . people working together.

In our case, 27,900 men and women work to bring you the products you buy from us. They each contribute special skills and abilities, live their own lives in many different places. You'll find their houses down the block, pass them on the street, sit next to them at a movie.

In the extremely competitive oil business, it takes a lot of people—working with many expensive tools—to bring you good products at reasonable prices. For crude oil is a bulky, sticky liquid that's hard to handle. Taking oil from the ground, refining it, transporting it and pumping it into your car or oil burner is a continuous job . . . a job that can be done most efficiently when many people pool many talents within a coordinated organization.

That's why thousands of hands work at Standard to bring you good products . . . and to make sure oil flows in steady supply to America's planes, tanks, trucks and ships in times of national emergency.

California's Bid to Cotton Fame

HAND PICKING IN THE FIELD

MECHANICAL COTTON PICKER OPERATING IN FIELD

California—the New Land of Cotton

By PAUL NEWELL

Californians don't have to sing: "I wish I was in de land ob cotton." They're in it.

Cotton is now California's number 1 income crop. This state ranks fourth in the nation among cotton growing states, first in quality of production.

All this amazing development has taken place in the past thirty years in the rich San Joaquin Valley, with direction centered in Bakersfield, where the California Cotton Co-operative Association is located and in Shafter (18 miles north of Bakersfield) at the cotton experimental station of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Like many other successful California ventures, today's dominant position of California cotton is a tribute to California genius for co-operative venture. And like other California success stories it has been sparked by the migrants from other less fortunate areas.

The great San Joaquin Valley has always held a particular attraction for transplanted citizens from South of the Mason and Dixon line. After the war between the States, many a Southerner sought peace and opportunity in Central California and many of the pioneer residents of Bakersfield and other valley towns were from Dixie.

First California Cotton 1865

Southerners tried growing cotton in the Bakersfield area as early as 1865 and from then until 1920 several cotton growing ventures went awry because there were not the ginning and marketing facilities to make them succeed.

In the early twenties some energetic Southerners moved into the cotton picture in the San Joaquin, pooled their resources with some of the old settlers and started making Central California a cotton empire.

The great strides cotton growing has made in California in the past 30 years may be attributed to co-operative venture plus ideal climatic and soil conditions and irrigation.

If ever you pass through Bakersfield in August and it is 110 in the shade, just remember that this is ideal cotton weather. Whereas most of the growers in the Southern States depend on rainfall for irrigation, San Joaquin Valley growers depend entirely on well or ditch irrigation, which can be perfectly regulated. This, coupled with the rich alleuvial soil of the San Joaquin accounts for the fact that while one bale to an acre is a big crop in the South, top soil in the San Joaquin produces two to three bales per acre.

The other big factor which gives California cotton supremacy is organization. According to state law, only one type of cotton plant, Acala, can be grown in California. All of the seed from which California cotton is grown came from parent seed grown at the U.S. Experimental Farm in Shafter.

California cotton growers are so organized that a completely new and better strain of Acala cotton can replace the old strain within a period of five years.

In the twenties, California cotton growers, seeing the confusion and lack of standard which multiple varieties of cotton had created in the Southern States, settled on one, Acala, a long staple variety originally grown in Mexico.

Gov't Experimental Farm

The experimental farm was established in Shafter and breeding started to improve the Acala plant, give the cotton a longer staple, and greater tensile strength. The growers got a one seed law written by the legislature, permitting only Acala to be grown in California.

The non-profit California Planting Cotton Seed Distributors was formed to take the parent seed grown at Shafter, put it out with growers throughout the valley for reproduction. By close supervision of this group, each year enough top quality Acala seed is grown to plant the entire California crop, with some to spare for shipment to other states.

In the 1930's, George J. Harrison, a genius at plant culture, took charge of the Shafter experimental farm and started seeking some vast improvements in the Acala plant.

By infinite pains in cross breeding, and by searching far and wide for cotton plants that would give California cotton outstanding qualities, Harrison finally came up with Acala 4-42, considered by the cotton industry a miracle plant which will revolutionize the industry.

J. Russell Kennedy, dynamic manager of California Cotton Cooperative Association, described the development of Acala 4-42 as follows:

"Ten years ago, this comparatively new strain of cotton was but a single stalk, discovered in a field planted with seed brought from New Mexico. Seed from this one stalk was planted in a test plot at Shafter Farm in 1940. Only two stalks survived the exacting requirements of continuous inspection during the growing and bearing season. These two plants were pampered, petted and hand pollinated, producing this new strain and developed on the Shafter breeding block until 1945, when it was ready to be planted on the four-acre increase block.

"Four years later in 1949 when the state was planted exclusively to Acala 4-42, some 12,000 farmers planted this new strain on approximately 957,000 acres to produce nearly 1,300,000 bales of prime cotton."

Of such is the saga of co-operation, California style.

Much of the progress of California cotton is due to the work of the organization which Mr. Kennedy heads. It is primarily a growers' marketing group and as such has sold California cotton to the world market, at a premium.

Seed Distributing Group

The cotton seed distributing group, managed by Laurance Nourse, has also done a tremendous job in keeping California a one cotton seed state and bringing to the growers new improved seeds, year by year.

The only big limiting factor in the development of California cotton is water. For many years the San Joaquin Valley has been depleting its underground water supply. This depletion will be partially offset by the first big unit of the Central Valley Water Project, due to be finished in the next two years.

This will probably hold the present acreage development in the valley, but for greater development more water is needed. In years to come other parts of the Central Valley Project will have to be completed in order to develop the maximum land resources of the valley. California cotton is here to stay as a dominant factor in California agriculture, but its ultimate development hinges on water.

WHAT PEOPLE WILL DO

President Truman will make a quick move to control all prices even before election, in spite of plain, blunt warning that it will harm Democratic candidates in some of the industrial states! Criswell Answers

Q: Will my husband find work in his line and will we sell the house? E. N. P. Arcadia.

A: Yes, in three weeks, and your house will be sold later this year.

Q: My husband and I are in need of medical attention. Will the pension be increased? Is the property legally settled? How can my husband get his share? Effie F. S. Austelle.

A: Go to the County Clinic in your city and they will see that you are given the proper examination and the proper medical care. Go to your Lawyer at once and have him protect your interest. I know that he will take the case on a percentage basis! You could also ask your Bank what to do, but I am sure they would refer you to take legal steps on the matter. You will profit by it.

Q: How long will it be until I sell this little house? Will I then get to buy the little place down the street? Will Mother last long? Mrs. N. M.

A: You will be able to sell it after the first of the year, and then you will buy some income property down the street. Your Mother will do well if she lasts the summer.

Q: Should we sell our place of business here? Is it better for my husband's health here? F. A.

A: Yes, you will sell later next year, but not at the present time. Your husband will be able to take it a little easier with some good help he will get. You will both take a trip very soon and it will aid you very much. Do not be too concerned over your health, for it will hold up very well.

Q: Is there a change coming up for us? I am 51, my husband is 66 and we work day in and day out for the bare necessities of life. Should we give up our land here? Mrs. M.

A: Yes, you will find that by the 10th of January 1951, you will both come into a very good change. You should both take it much easier, and you will find that you will have a much happier outlook over things. I know that good is coming your way and very soon.

A: Will I feel better? Will we be able to hold on to our home? Mrs. P. R.

A: Yes, you will feel a surge of good health take hold of you within ten days. Your finances will improve. I know that the worst luck is behind you, and from now on there is a constant improvement.

Q: Where is Frank's money hidden? Jessie M.

A: Among his personal belongings and you will find it.

Q: Will I marry again? Should I buy the lunch room? Margaret A. N.

A: Yes, this year to a man you now know. Yes, but try it out first for one month before you actually purchase it, as it is not everything that the seller claims that it is. You will prosper very soon.

Q: Will my little girl ever get well? Will my husband find another job in a more suitable climate? Does he care for me and does he step out? Mrs. Nettie W.

A: Yes, you will find she will Criswell . . . improve over a space of time. By October. Your husband cares for you and he is very loyal to you in every way.

Q: Will I trade my land for another away from here? Will the family join us in our move? Fred-H. T. box 129.

A: No, you will sell your place for cash and then invest in property that will suit you. They will join you.

Q: Will the ranch be sold and will it be soon? Will I also sell the shop? Martha S. Lancaster.

A: You will sell the ranch to some one from Indiana by the end of this year and you will get a good price. Your shop will be sold by the end of the summer, but you will have to take a little less that you have planned. You will sell it thru a big "for sale" sign on the front. You and your mother will be able to do the things you want to very soon.

Q: Will my lease for oil pay out? Will my friends come from Canada? Will I sell? Mrs. J. W. Hemet.

A: Not at the present time. Yes, by September 28th. Not this year. Things look good.

Q: Will my oldest son ever stop drinking? Will he ever be able to hold a steady job? Will the old age pension be lowered to 60 next year? P. E. M. Alturas.

A: He will have an illness that will frighten him into sobriety, and then I feel he will taper off. You will be able to get him interested in the AA's. His work will be more steady. You will have a wonderful effect on him, but do not nag or criticize him. The pension will be lowered to 60 in 1952.

Q: Who took my Mother's rings out of her purse and where are they? Give initals as this is very small and all my friends read your column. Hazel K.

A: The person who took the rings has "L" very prominent in the name, however I do sense that they will be returned to you if you diplomatically let the individual know that you know who took them. You face a very active and pleasant summer.

FALL Glove COLLECTION

POLISHED LONGER GLOVES of washable French kid point up the contrast of velvet trim on a tweed suit. Highly-polished hat of feathers has pearl essence. Right, string and glace glove is worn with a coat of muskrat dyed "moon glow."

NEW ACCESSORIES are a girl's best friend this fall—speaking in a fashion sense. Above, Kislav's slim and snugly-fitting French doeskin gloves are designed to go with Pauline Trigere's slim wool daytime dress—proving point about accessories.

Canapes & Hors d'oeuvres

Hors d'oeuvres and canapes are features that few parties could do without and the more casually informal they are the better from the standpoint of guests. For example, a "dunker" bowl which permits guests to make their own appetizers always pleases.

Also have a bowl of catsup and one of chili sauce ready for Vienna sausages pierced on colored toothpicks. Wrap sausages, pineapple chunks and big stuffed olives in bacon and broil until piping hot and the bacon is crisp (about five minutes).

One of the simplest "assortments" is a variety of spreads, such as the one shown here, surrounded by crackers, each person spreading his own. Be prepared for a family nibbler, and have some of the following spreads in your refrigerator at all times:

Mushroom Nut Spread

1 3-ounce can chopped mushrooms
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
½ cup chopped walnuts
¼ teaspoon scraped onion
¼ teaspoon salt

Drain mushrooms; reserve liquid. Blend enough mushroom liquid into cream cheese to make good spreading consistency. Stir in mushrooms, walnuts, onion and salt. Chill thoroughly. Makes about one cup.

Chicken Watercress Spread

1 6-ounce can chicken
¼ cup chopped watercress
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt

With fork break chicken into small pieces; add watercress and mix thoroughly. Stir in mayonnaise and salt. Chill thoroughly. Makes about one cup.

Ham Spread

1 2¼-ounce can deviled ham
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
¼ teaspoon minced onion
Salt, pepper

Blend ham, cream cheese and onion together thoroughly. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Chill thoroughly. Makes about 1 cup.

When it's time to be fussy and formal, try an ornate arrangement of things on a huge platter, perhaps make a braunschweiger pineapple—smoked liverwurst sausage molded and topped with pineapple or celery leaves.

A cheese "dip" may be made of well-whipped cheese spreads. A nosegay of appetizers may be built around a small bunch of curly endive about which is tied a frilly paper doily. Tid-bids on food picks made from combinations of small cubes of cheese or cervalet, tiny pickled onions, and pimiento olives may be stuck into the nosegay. Wedges of alternating cheese and meat slices are quickie bits. Use three slices of quality bolonga spread with horseradish mustard and two slices of aged cheese cut ⅜-inch thick to make an alternated stack. Form to shape with a 3-inch round cutter. Stick 10 picks equally distant to hold pieces together and cut through into pie-shaped wedges with one pick per wedge.

Parsley-covered balls are a particularly tempting appetizer using braunschweiger. To make a braunschweiger ball, place a pat of mashed liver sausage in the palm of your hand. Add a small pimiento olive and wrap and roll the sausage to cover. Dip in chopped parsley.

Alternating tidbits of cubed cervelat and olives, or cubed cervelat and pickled onions, make easy-to-prepare appetizers. Wee cornucopias on picks may be made from thinly sliced small salami or cervelat. Slash to the center of each slice and roll into cone shape. Fasten with a pick. Soften cream cheese and fill cones.

Other suggestions:

Canapes

Mash ¼-pound blue cheese; add one 3-ounce package cream cheese and 2 tablesoons French dressing; whip until smooth and creamy; add 1 tablespoon finely cut chives; spread on "fingers" of pumpernickle bread, garnished with sliced sweet gherkins.

Mash ½ pound liverwurst; add ¼ cup thick sour cream, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash Tabasco; whip until smooth and creamy; spread on square, salted crackers. Garnish with sliced, stuffed olives.

Spread toast rounds with mayonnaise; top with thinly-sliced smoked salmon; garnish with crumbled, crisp bacon, placed decoratively.

Spread round crackers with cream cheese; place rolled anchovy fillet in center; surround with thinly-cut strips of pimiento.

Diced Meat Dip

1 5-ounce can diced meat for juniors
¼ cup cream, whipped
¼ cup chopped pimiento olives
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Remove meat from can and drain. Combine all ingredients and chill. Yield: 1 cup.

Smoked Cheese Whip

6 ounces smoked cheese food
¼ cup cream or condensed milk, whipped
¾ teaspoon poppy seed or caraway seed

Soften cheese in bowl. Add whipped cream and caraway seed and whip together until smooth. Yield: 1 cup.

Crunchy Braunschweiger Spread

½ pound braunschweiger liver sausage
2 tablespoons grated onion
¼ cup finely chopped celery
3 tablespoons sweet pickle juice

Mash braunschweiger in bowl with fork. Add remaining ingredients and mix until blended and smooth. Yield: 1½ cups.

Dill Pickles and Chive Cream Cheese

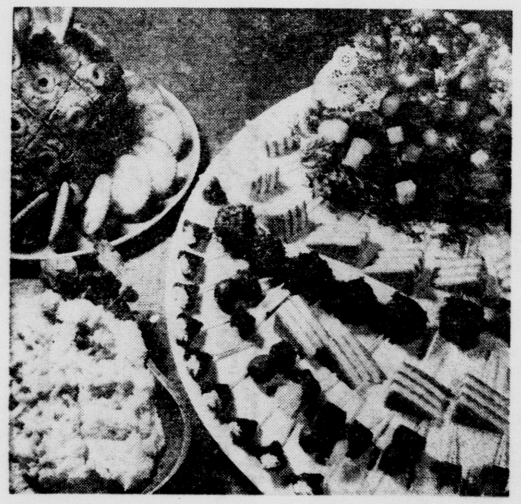
Spread chive cream cheese between slices of dill pickles or sweet cucumber pickles and put together sandwich fashion.

Fresh Cucumber Pickles and Anchovies

Fold flat anchovies on one end of a half slice of fresh cucumber pickle and fasten with a toothpick. Serve with canapes.

Pickle Egg 'n' Bacon Spread

To four diced hard-cooked eggs add two slices of crumbled crisp bacon, 3 tablespoons of sweet pickle relish and 3 tablespoons mayonnaise. Serve on crispy crackers or whole wheat wafers, triangle pieces of toast.



BRAUNSCHWEIGER formed like a pineapple is a feature of this delicious looking and satisfying food display.

Coachella's Story—One of Legend and Water's Magic

—Hartman Photo.

PIPE LAYING—Pipes atop ground have now become underground arteries tapping the All-American Canal which brings water 123 miles from the Colorado River at Yuma. The water is piped to raw desert land shown here to produce off-season crops in the valley's sunny winter.

The story of Coachella is a story of reclamation's magic, indeed.

Centuries ago a part of the Gulf of California, less than five decades ago a barren wasteland with a few small oases to shelter the desert travellers, today the fastest-growing, rich, irrigated garden and winter playground in America, the home of the date industry in America . . . that is the story of Coachella Valley.

Courage, undaunted and stubborn vision provides the background for this fabulous land's growth. The pioneer spirit is there today.

But out of the colorful past comes stories of the area that tell of phantom pearl ships, lost gold mine legends and the treks of the Spanish explorers.

Most famed of the explorers was Captain Juan Bautista de Anza. In 1774, while colonists on the east coast were fighting the tyranny of King George, De Anza left Tubac in Mexico to seek a new route to the mission at Monterey. He saw the desert as desolation and a barrier which nearly proved unsurmountable. He established the first overland route over the desert wastes.

In the years of the gold rush, it is estimated that 60,000 crossed the desert. Then came the wagon trains, the stage routes including the Butterfield Company and in 1879 the Southern Pacific laid its trails to Yuma and more people came through Coachella Valley.

Its soil carpeted with tiny shells the area was given the name of Conchilla "little shells" but modern misspelling has given us the name "Coachella."

Arid land to bountiful date groves, the frontier spirit of the pioneer has not been outlived today as Coachella Valley continues its progress, growth and lusty development.

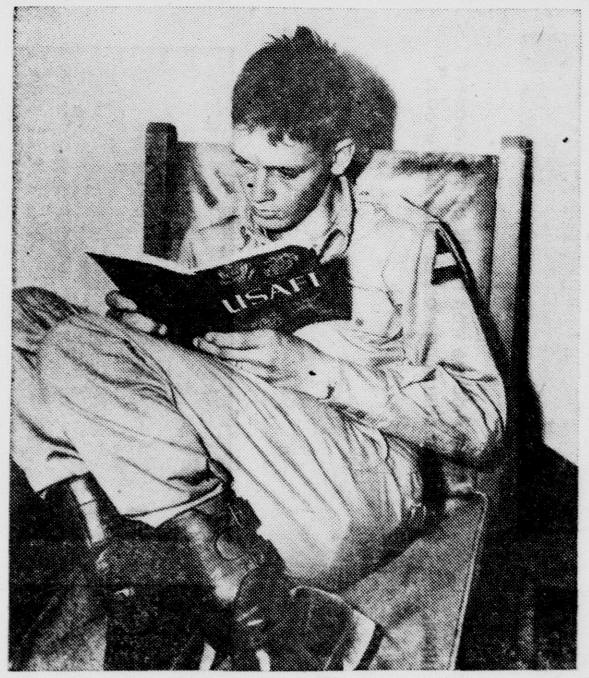
Organization's Aim

Making GI's Feel at Home

California will do its share in making our GI's feel at home. Golden Staters have lined up with the newly formed Associated Services for the Armed Forces, Inc., which will take up where the U.S.O. left off at the end of the last war.



From 4000 to 129

USO, which during the Second World War spent $236,000,000 on GI morale and operated 4000 servicemen's clubs throughout the world, finally died last January. Death was attributed to malnutrition or a lack of funds. The secondary cause, officials said, was civilian apathy in what was the peacetime.

When it passed out of the picture, USO was down to 129 clubs. Three individual member agencies of the old USO—the Y.M.C.A., the National Catholic Community Service and the National Jewish Welfare Board—undertook the job of keeping the remaining servicemen's centers open.

Co-ordinating Unit

Between January and April, or between the death of USO and the beginning of Associated Services, 43 more clubs had to be closed. But then the new organization was formed. Unlike the USO, Associated Services, leaves the actual morale operations in the hands of the three member agencies. It acts as a co-ordinating and fund-raising body on a national level.

In April, Associated Services planned to reopen 15 clubs. Then came the Korean explosion in June and the plans were revised. Associated Services is now attempting to reopen 27 of the old servicemen's centers and expand facilities of existing centers.

To date, one has been reopened—on Okinawa, the club in Seoul was lost when the Reds over-ran the capital of South Korea.

86 Clubs Now

At this writing, Associated Services and its member agencies maintain 86 clubs—70 in this country and 16 in Alaska, the Canal Zone, Germany, Guam, Hawaii, Okinawa, Rome, Puerto Rico and France.

It has not moved into Japan because the Army Special Services branch has supplied sufficient recreational facilities for troops there. Associated Services has no immediate plans for moving into Korea because of the scarcity of shipping space, the fluidity of the fighting and the small theater involved.

At the request of the Defense Department, Associated Services had limited its work to the servicemen's clubs. There are no immediate plans for reviving the old USO camp shows although small, individual groups have, at times, supplied professional entertainment at various bases.

Vary in Size

The clubs now going vary in size from the ornate $1,000,000 center in Honolulu, which has a swimming pool, gym, restaurants, dormitories and outdoor patios, to the tiny club on Guam. The latter operates out of a single quonset hut and is run, on a very small budget, by a married couple.

Generally, the clubs are similar to the old USO centers but time, progress and five years of peace have brought some changes. Several clubs in this country, for example, maintain day nurseries for the children of GI's whose wives work.

The biggest attendance, officials report, is on nights when the club television set offers boxing and wrestling.

Development of Iron Chief Mine, Rail Link, a Saga of Courage

Atop a historic range in the Joshua Tree National Monument east of Indio blasting powder and bulldozers have carved a new history of mining in the Coachella Valley region.

The $7,000,000 Eagle Mountain iron ore mine with its historic 52-mile railroad was put into operation late last year and today ore cars are rumbling through the desert and the valley en route to Henry Kaiser's Fontant Steel Mills, 112 miles away, 164 from mine to mill.

Ore cars with 60 tons of low-grade iron ore are shuttled back and forth on the "Flying Eagle" railroad line that begins 190 feet below sea level and ends 1658 feet above sea level.

The Bureau of Mines estimates there are some 70,000,000 tons of 40 per cent ore in the mountain, and the operation of the mine has been hailed by Kaiser as further consolidating the West's position, bringing greater efficiency to its steel industry.

These M-G-M photographs of some of Cinemaland's most famous beauties represent 25 years of glamour. These stars gave out with many a thrilling celluloid episode. Do you remember them?

Bessie Love, a veteran of the "flickers" era, also scored in early talking pictures.

Renee Adoree won hearts of movie-goers for her charming work in "The Big Parade."

Beautiful, "platinum blonde" Jean Harlow flamed like a spectacular comet across the sky of stardom, only to plunge to an untimely death—but never oblivion. Her name lives on, unfading.

Carmel Meyers, known for her sultry roles, gained notice in "Tell It To The Marines."

Blonde Mae Murray, she of the bee-stung lips, was sensation in "The Merry Widow."

Helen Hayes deserted stage for movies and promptly turned in an Oscar effort.

Famed star of a famed film: Luise Rainer won her Oscar in "The Great Ziegfeld."

Most beloved of feminine character actresses, Marie Dressler was teamed with Wallace Beery in "Min and Bill" for Academy Award.

"The Birth of a Nation" was outstanding among successes of this star: Lillian Gish.

Jeanette MacDonald, one of the screen's most beautiful women, and a baritone named Nelson Eddy first teamed in "Naughty Marietta."

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

NEWARK BROWNIE NEWS

Due to a large membership, Newark Brownie Troop 113 will be divided into two separate units.

Mrs. J. C. Kennedy will lead the older girls and keep the original troop number. She will be assisted by Mrs. L. M. Potts.

This group will meet on Saturday mornings at 10 a.m. For the next few weeks they will meet at Mrs. Kennedy's home and then go to the C. F. Lombardo Hobby Shop at 2451 George Street, for ceramic painting.

Mrs. Joe Souza, assisted by Mrs. Charles Forrest, will be the leader for the younger group of girls. They will be transferred to the new troop as soon as necessary formalities are completed.

This group will be meeting as usual at 3 p.m. on Wednesday afternoons at the Youth Center, starting October 18.

The project for the first few weeks will be decorations for a Halloween party.

Funds for the troop's crafts and activities will come from a rummage sale to be held on October 20 and 21 in the now vacant jeweler's store next to the ice cream shop on Thornton Avenue in Newark.

CENTERVILLE TROOP

Centerville Girl Scout Troop 66 committee mothers met in the Centerville Elementary School cafeteria Tuesday in what is believed to be an all-time high in their group attendance.

Committee officers for the year 1950 are: Chairman, Mrs. Tom Maloney; secretary, Mrs. George Kay; treasurer, Mrs. Leland Silva; leaders, Mrs. J. V. Orsetti and Mrs. George Valles; supply assistant, Mrs. Angie Sabina; and refreshment chairman, Mrs. George Silveira.

"Parent Participation," the group's theme, was reached when by-laws recently drawn and voted upon, were given each mother.

With a Halloween cook-out at the Girl Scout Cabin on October 28, and a "Court of Award" with a "Brownie Fly-Up" on Nov. 6, the coming weeks promise to be busy ones.

A better understanding of troop activities has been gained by the mothers through medium of these neighborhood monthly meetings, when mothers meet and enjoy a few moments of business and workshop while they relax over a cup of coffee.

This troop has accepted an invitation to participate in "Our Lady of Fatima" procession at the Holy Family convent in Mission San Jose next Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

MISSION SAN JOSE NEWS

By LOIS BOTTENBERG

Lois Bottenberg

A QUIET CEREMONY

A very quiet ceremony was performed at St. Joseph's Church here in the Mission about two weeks ago by Reverend John Leal with the immedaite families attending. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Azeveda Jr. were remarried in their Catholic faith as they had been married earlier in the summer at Reno in a civil ceremony. Their many relatives and friends wish them a long and happy life together. Mrs. Azevedo was Miss Lorraine Santos, daughter of Mrs. Marie Santos, before her marriage.

COMMUTER

Miss Cecelia Schneider may be seen every morning now bright and early catching that early morning bus to San Jose where she is employed in a flower shop. She found that living at home was much more pleasant and economical, and good eats sure help a lot especially when Mom cooks them.

PROUD OF HER

We of the Mission are very proud of one of our former school girls who made her home here for a number of years. We are speaking of Miss Georgia Laughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Laughlin, who has been given several honors in the Santa Clara Dental Association. She is a dental nurse in an office in San Jose. She is a graduate of Washington Union High School and went to work immediately following her graduation two years ago. Your correspondent and the young folks of the Mission Youth Center congratulate you.

NEW BUSINESS

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we are privileged to announce (if all goes as expected) the opening of the Mission Beauty Salon on the main highway across from the Whiteside Realty Company, next Wednesday, Oct. 18. It will be owned and operated by Mrs. Irene Fletcher who has been a resident of the Mission for several years and who recently has been operating her other salon in Berkeley. She hopes eventually to operate all week, but at the beginning will only spend two or three days a week. Mr. Fletcher has been very busy for weeks painting, repairing and making furniture for the new salon.

BACK ON JOB

Mr. Nathan Click, principal of the Mission School, was confined to his home for several days this past week with a strepp infection. He is back on the job again this week.

VISITING

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Kamp and daughters Vicki and Teri, of Lake Tahoe spent Sunday night here at the home of her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bottenberg, on their way to Pacific Grove with Mr. Kamp's brother where they will spend a two weeks' vacation before moving back to their winter home in Placerville where Mr. Kamp is an accountant.

GRAND TIME

Robert "Pee Wee" Caires and Buddy Semas spent Saturday at the ranch home of Thompy Thompson as his guests. Mom Thompson fixed the boys hot dogs for their midday meal and they had one grand time riding and enjoying the ranch freedom.

PLEASE EXCUSE

First off, folks, I want to print a correcton. More than likely my two-fingered typing was to blame, but whatever it was, the date for the Catholic Daughters Food Sale in front of the fire house in Mission San Jose is OCTOBER 14th and we do hope the correction comes quickly enough that those who thought they were disappointed and did not get to patronize the girls will be able to get up and buy some nice delicacy for dinner. Remember the date, OCT. 14, at the Fire House, Saturday's the day.

LUCKY HUNTING

John Feleciano and his gang of hunters returned from their trip to Nevada and, boy, what a load of big ones. The pickup had one apiece for the fellows and they were the envy of all those who were not lucky enough to bag theirs in California. But, gee, Nevada is quite a haul to go for deers, isn't it?

VENISON BARBECUE

The Mission Bell, owned and operated by Chet and Maude Holtz, is sponsoring a barbecue, and deer at that, for their friends and patrons on October 15 in their back yard. They got theirs on their recent trip north.

TO GERMANY

Mr. Gabriel Martinez, a former Mission resident, came into town for a short visit today and told us that his son, Gabe Jr., is with the air corps and has been sent to Germany for his overseas duty.

WHIST PARTY

The Mission Firemen's Auxiliary held a special meeting last Friday to make plans for their first attempt at having a whist party. It will be on Friday, October 20, at the Mission Elementary School, at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend and help swell the Christmas fund.

ONE AFTER ANOTHER

It almost seems that our town needs a hospital "all its own" last week, for David Johnson, who is employed at the Mission Garage by Bill Varner, caught his finger in the winch of the tow car and mashed and cut it so that he had to have stitches taken. Leah Overacker, daughter of the Mike Overackers, had to have surgery for a bone felon on her finger, while Marilyn Rodrigues is still treating for the same ailment on her finger. Little Lorene Garcia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garcia, fell in the driveway and had to be rushed to the doctor's office for several stitches in her forehead, and Bobbie McGowan, who had been injured at the Hayward playgrounds, had to have her hand retreated as she tore the scar open after nearly a week. So glad it wasn't worse.

CENTERVILLE SCHOOL STUDIES ARTS, CRAFTS

The faculty of the Centerville Elementary School met last Thursday afternoon with Miss Middup, new supervisor of art for Alameda County. Plans were formulated for the arts and crafts program for the new school year.

REBEKAH NEWS

A "get-together" dinner will be given by the members of Silver Star Rebekah Lodge No. 336, I.O.O.F., at Odd Fellows Hall in Irvington, October 14 at 6 p.m. This dinner is for members and their families and friends. Anyone desiring reservations should contact Mrs. Olive Pugmire, Niles 3803, or Mrs. Irma Wright, Irvington 12-J. There will be a short program after the dinner under the direction of Mrs. Anna Bradford and Mrs. Ivy Cull.

The next regular meeting of the Lodge will be held Friday evening, Oct. 20, according to Mrs. Irene Bales, noble grand.

The members of Necona Theta Rho No. 46 met in regular session Monday evening, Oct. 9 at Odd Fellows Hall in Irvington, under the direction of Mrs. Nellie Talley and Mrs. Ivy Cull, assistant advisors, in the absence of Mrs. Edna Hescher, advisor. After a short business meeting the Club held initiatory ceremonies for a class of candidates, after which they all adjourned to the Cloverdale Creamery for refreshments.

Saturday evening, Oct. 21, the Club will install their newly elected officers; and on Thursday evening, Oct. 26, they will journey to Pleasanton to initiate a class of candidates for that Club, as well as to install newly elected officers.

Who Runs America?

the Congress? the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association
American Legion
National Association of Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods Association
American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

GERMAN GIRL WRITES LETTER TO NILES GIRL

* * * * * * * * *

TELLS OF TRAVELS, SIGHTS, IN GERMANY

Duilinda Duarte, Niles' greatest pen-pal enthusiast, received an interesting letter recently from a German pen-pal. The Register is printing the letter because it gives such a clear and interesting picture of life in Germany today. The letter is written in almost perfect English. The girl lives in Bremen.

"Dear Duilinda

"Some weeks ago I acknowledged receipt of your kind letter of July 10, and promised to answer it later on. I hope you did not get impatient in the meantime.

"I am glad you are satisfed with your holidays. I, too, like to spend some time keeping my things in order, etc. As you know, I had my holidays in the meantime, too, and I will give you my report:

"For the first time in my life I made a journey. I went to the village of Grainan, which is situated near the Zugspitze, the highest mountain of the German part of the Alps. I went there by train, which took me longer than 20 hours... It was rather exhausting as I could not find sleep during that night. But down there it was marvelous. It is so strange to see these high mountains for the first time when you have always lived where the land is flat.

"I went there alone, but as I had made an arrangement with the Bremen tourist office (which is cheaper than private traveling) I had no difficulty in finding company whenever I wanted. There were many young girls. Besides, I made friends with a Hamburg girl.

"I stayed there a fortnight. I went to several lakes, for instance to the Sadersee and to the Eibsee. The water of these lakes is quite clear and has a green color. One day I was on the Zugspitze, which has a height of 2964 meters. At first I went by cog-wheel, which went through a tunnel of four kilometers length. Then I went by cable-car to the top of that mountain. I had a very good view. I could see the mountains of Austria, Italy, and Switzerland. There was much snow but the sun was very warm.

"Once I went by bus to several other places and lakes in Savania. That was a very nice trip, too. In Tegernsee, for instance, I visited a church which is very beautiful. Most of the South Germans are Catholics. Their churches are splendid, and rich. The ceilings are covered with beautiful paintings; besides, the walls are covered with great stuccos and pictures. There are many altars and several statues of the Holy Virgin and saints. In Oberammergau I visited a church, too. It is beautiful, but for my taste almost too full of decorations. Most I liked the church of the Monastery of Ettal. It is so beautiful.

At another time I climbed all day long, as a mountaineer was our leader. We climbed on and on. We were higher than 1800 meters. When I was back at my lodgings in the evening I was quite worn out and had large blisters on my feet, but nevertheless it was a wonderful day. I enjoyed it thoroughly.

Another place I visited was the castle of Lindenhorf. I sent you a postcard together with my last letter. Formerly it belonged to the Bavarian King Ludwig the Second. The rooms of this castle are rather small except the bedroom. Ceilings and walls are covered with paintings and stuccoes. There are many statues of Carrara marble. It was mighty impressive to see it, though I can hardly understand that people could live in such a place where is nothing but finery and luxury. But of course they lived in a time quite different from ours, so that we can't use our taste as a measure. Moreover that was a time when the Germans were highly devoted to the French art, style, and fashion; especially King Ludwig was a great devotee of the French and had his castle built after the French style. He had several castles. They are said to be all as luxurious as this one. That king must have cost his country a good deal of money.

"The park of the castle of Lindendorf is remarkable too. At 12 o'clock we saw the fountains, the greatest of which had a height of over 30 meters. In the park we saw a beautiful pavilion made after the Far East style. What I liked most was the grotto. It is very large. Here and there are a few electric lamps of different colors. (It was the first electric light of Germany.) In the midst is a lake (two meters deep) with a real waterfall, which has been led into the grotto. The king had this grotto erected because he wanted the Wagner operas to be performed here. But this was done only once because the waterfall makes such a noise. On the lake is the skiff of "Lohengrin," but as this opera was not performed here the king went into the skiff himself sometimes at night and two of his servants had to drive him on the lake. He must have been a great enthusiast.

"I think I told you enough about my holidays now. I guess you are tired already.

"For a long time I have not been at the cinema or theater as I had to save my money for my holidays.

"At present I read the book "Dragon Seed" by Pearl Buck. I like books written by Pearl Buck.

"I hope to get a letter from you soon.

"Lots of love, Beate."

LARRY LAMOREUX AT MIDWEST CONFERENCE

Larry Lamoreux, a sophomore student at Washington Union High School, is in Kansas this week as the representative of the F.F.A. Chapter of Washington High at the Future Farmers convention. He left Saturday and will return Monday.

He won the trip as the result of a speech-making contest in which he placed second. Vince Wallace, first in the contest, had made the trip last year so elected to stay home and let Larry go this time.

Thinking Things Over . : :

By VIVIAN BATMAN

A local husband, not married too long, has finally discovered why his wife has been regarding him with ever-increasing suspicion. It's the match-folders he carries about with him.

He pulled out a match-folder the other day and innocently lit a cigarette. His wife pounced on the match-folder, read the name of a well-known nite-spot in San Francisco on the cover, then fell immediately into an ominous and deadly silence. She broke the silence only to ask in a tight-lipped, "this-is-the-end" manner, "When were you there—and who went with you?"

It took the rest of the evening for the poor, bewildered husband to explain that he had picked the match-folder up in a cigar store, that he had never been to this nite-spot, and—on his honor—he would never go there without his wife.

Then he went out and bought his wife a bouquet of roses—and a cigarette lighter for himself.

HAPPY PEOPLE

I attended the Svea Glee Club dinner at the International Kitchen last Saturday night.

Never before had I been to any affair given by a Swedish organization. They are a happy people, breaking out into spontaneous singing at the slightest provocation. They are noteworthy in one other respect, too. They regard old age with the greatest esteem. Most of their songs deal, in one way or another, with old age, many of them ending (the Swedish was translated for me), "May he live to be a hundred." With the Swedish, old age seems to be an achievement, rather than something to be dreaded.

I liked their philosophy of living. I also like their Swedish dances, their joviality, and their good-fellowship.

The high-spot of the evening was the Glee Club's (all Swedes) singing of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny"—without a trace of Swedish accent! You'd think it couldn't be done, but it was—and beautifully.

CALL OF THE WILD DUCK

With my two sons I have experienced all the childhood noises—from the screams of early infancy tantrums, to the "bang-bang-bang" of the four-year-old with his toy pistol, to the "Ah-ah-a-a-a-a-a" of the seven-year-old gangster with his machine gun—but never have I gone through what I'm going through now. Now one of my sons has become a hunter. He intends to become a duck-hunter, come the opening of duck season—is it October 20?

In preparation for this great event, he is practicing duck calls, so he can entice the ducks to come down within gun shot.

If he is restless, he practices his duck call in the middle of the night. (Any night I am apt to wake up and wonder if I am in the middle of a duck pond.) During the day my peace of mind is constantly being made unpeaceful by a series of explosions of "quack-quack-quacks."

Being surrounded by a horde of Communist troops in Korea would be a lark, compared with the eerie feeling you get when you feel you're surrounded by a brace—or is it a bevy?—of ducks. Every now and then I get the perfectly ridiculous feeling that I, myself, am about to break out in a quack—just so that I will be replying in kind.

I try to console myself with the thought that I should be glad he's not planning on hunting hyenas. In that case, well——

SYMPATHY

Deepest sympathy to Manuel Santos on the loss of his sister, Mary Marceil, of San Leandro.

IN PARADE

Loretta Ferreira led the group of majorettes which strutted before the Drum and Bugle Corps last Friday at the Hayward Pet Parade. The other majorettes were Laverne Bettencourt, Rita Sanchez, Alvasa Campa and Madeline Hernandez. Connie Montellano carried the flag. All made a lovely picture in their red and white uniforms.

NURSING JOB

Mrs. Joe Carey nursed her daughter, Mrs. Dale Dias, and her son Bobby, of Sunnyvale, last week. Both were ill with virus.

BONE HUNT

Hip bone, collar bone, what's that? No, I'm not crazy, just taking count of the bones found on Alder Avenue in Centerville last week by the Martin and Dias crew. While working on a job, Johnny Torquemada, Clarence George, Don Martin, Sid Dias and Donnie Martin found one piece of skeleton after another. They are presumed to be Indian skeletons. My, I wonder what else dwells under the streets of Centerville?

PAINTING OVER

After a week of moving this and that, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Muniz have finally settled down to a freshly painted bedroom and living room. Of course Sally had her hand in it all and repainted her bedroom set also.

AT BOULDER CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Carey spent last week-end at Boulder Creek remodeling their cabin there.

NEW CAR

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Lazzarino are flashing around now in a new club coupe.

TO MICHIGAN

Arnold Bassignani and Al Leonard left last Friday by the California Zephyr for Michigan where Al will pick up his new car. The boys expect to put in some mileage (on the car that is) before they return home.

PERHAPS A CAREER

Henry Pagan, a member of the Army Air Corps, is considering the possibility of making a career of it. He is now stationed in Virginia. Good luck, Henry.

FIRE LOSS

Last Thursday afternoon a $500 house damage was made to the home of Charles Myers at 707 Railroad Avenue. The fire was started in the clothes closet. Estimation of the damaged clothes was not set.

Sparks from the Steel Mill

FAMILY VISITS

Joe Hudson had a family get-together last week—his brother, mother and grandmother from Ardmore, Oklahoma, his brother and wife from Oakland, and from Santa Clara his brother and family. Joe has been betting 2 to 1 on the football game between Oklahoma and Texas.

CLEANING UP

Ted Kutsukey, electrician on the 26-inch mill, cleaned up last week on the football games, and expects to do the same this week. Ted is quite an authority on football, as he used to be a water boy for Notre Dame which is close to his home town. He was a friend of Knute Rockne.

ATTENDS FUNERAL

Lyle Lloyd took off part of last week to attend the funeral of his father-in-law.

TO SEATTLE

Ray Seecombe is leaving today for Seattle where he will visit his family and friends. Ray used to ride to Santa Cruz over the week-end but now Seattle will see more of him. He has been looking over some airplanes so he can spend more time in Seattle over the week-ends.

HUNTS IN NORTH

Bill Webster spent a week up north deer hunting. He returned to work with the same amount of deer, but with a pair of sore feet.

FIREMEN VISIT

Charlie Meyers of the 26-inch mill had a few visitors this past week. They were all firemen who helped put out the fire in his home, which did about $2,500 in damages. Joe Hudson was there and was of great help.

A MYSTERY

Harry Avilla left work last Friday in the middle of the shift for reasons unknown. How about an explanation?

DEER HUNTING

Bill Davis of the 16-inch mill is spending a week at Sardine Lake where he hopes to bag a 250-pound deer.

WINS FISHING PRIZE

Joe Svoboda, heater on the 16-inch mill, won a case of motor oil in a fish derby held at Rio Vista.

NO LUCK

Lou Cedarholm of the Machine Shop and Lou Vandenberg of maintenance went to some undisclosed place near Grass Valley and tried their hand at shooting three 4-point bucks. They might as well have left their rifles at home, as all three got away.

GOOD LUCK

Oscar Dowe, office manager, is off for the week-end to try his hand at being the hawkeye. We hope he had better luck than some other people we know.

RENOVATES HOUSE

Benny Shorum of the machine shop is making his neighbors envious, what with his house completely renovated inside and out.

TO MEXICO

Jose Camarillo of shipping is planning a trip to old Mexico.

GETS AROUND

Art Crowe of the roll shop has taken a week's vacation. He went up the Redwood Highway, then to Portland, on to Port Angeles, Wash., and across to Victoria, B.C., an 84-mile boat ride to Vancouver and then back down the central part of Washington, Oregon and California home. He stayed home two days and went south to Los Angeles to visit relatives.

NEW LOCATION

Well, "Rosie" the welder is finally settled in his new location, beside the 12-inch mill. Seems he likes it better there.

THEY STINK

We wish "Woodie" wouldn't come through the machine shop with those foul smelling cigars of his. The odor lingers on and on and on.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Who is the rougher on the 2 to 10 shift whose daughter, Phyllis, recently married a young man from San Leandro named Carl? Carl was embarrased when two price tags on the father-in-law's suit were found, one before the wedding and one after!

Both Carl's in-laws tagged along on the honeymoon. What impressed the father-in-law most was the 17-mile drive between Monterey and Carmel. Friends say that Carl and Phyllis were better off on their honeymoon than the in-laws were on theirs.

THIS AND THAT

Seen at the Midget Club in Hayward—A. Martin telling Air Corps stories. Hi, Lt.

How about it, Barks. Got any more money on Missouri?

Hear say Dick giving 5-3 odds on Oklahoma over Texas. True to fashion.

Say, Ted, still shocked from the St. Mary's-Georgia 7-7 tie? We all make mistakes.

Which table operator has been drag racing with a new Buick against a little old Ford?

Delano's faces are still red. How red can they get? Hmmm!

BASEBALL

Cherryland defeated Delano's by a score of 8 to 6, Delano's committing 9 errors. Winning pitcher was Ward, and the losing pitcher, Avilla. Cherryland got 4 hits, Delano's 4 hits. Hitters for Delano's were F. Rebeijo with 3 for 3. Injured at the game was A. Martin with a badly contused and lacerated finger.

rapid customer service. Numerous "nesting" carriers, which move with almost effortless ease, make shopping more pleasant. Their nesting quality makes it possible to have many carriers available without crowding aisles or reducing the area for display of merchandise.

Approximately 146 lineal feet of open-top cooler and freezer cases have been installed in the new Safeway for attractive storage and display of frozen foods, dairy products, ice cream, produce and pre-packaged meats.

SELF-SERVICE MEATS

Meats are displayed in self-service meat sections made up of rows of open-top refrigerated cases. These cases are stocked with a wide variety of cuts, cellophane-wrapped in assorted size packages.

The meats are prepared in a specially equipped packaging room. Stocking area of the store includes four walk-in cooler boxes, providing a refrigerated area of 400 square feet. Fifteen compressors are required to service the various pieces of refrigerated equipment in the store.

Manager Jack Coley has issued an invitation to Chambers of Commerce members throughout the township to attend an informal preview of the new Safeway Store next Wednesday evening.

FAMED COMEDIAN IN SAN JOSE

Tomorrow night, October 14, will be a night of riotous entertainment in the auditorium, San Jose, where the inimitable comedian, Harpo Marx, is bringing his show for two hours of mirth and laughter.

Harpo himself in person, complete with red wig, stove-pipe hat, clarinet, harp, piano and harmonica, will perform unpredictable antics, from appearing as a French dressmaker to conducting Beethoven's Fifth Symphony in pantomine, with a mythical orchestra. Christina Carroll, beautiful soprano of the Metropolitan and La Scala Opera Companies, who sang Desdemona to Ramon Vinay's Othello with the Paris Opera, was the Marguerite of the Italian-made film "Faust," and has appeared with orchestras under Sir Thomas Beecham and Bruno Walter, will sing arias from "Song of Norway," Sigmund Romberg, Friml, and others.

Jeannette Savron, concert pianist of distinction who has played under Stokowski, Fritz Reiner, etc., will play the concert version of the "Blue Danube," the Chopin Polonaise, the Khachaturian "Sabre Dance" and brilliant popular pieces. Harpo will unite his entire company in the grand finale.

Lily Pons, greatest coloratura soprano since Jenny Lind, will appear in the San Jose auditorium as the opening event of the San Jose Concert Series on October 26.

Tickets for both events are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose auditorium.

UNUSUAL BOOK ABOUT DESCENT OF MAN PROVIDES INTEREST FOR DECOTO GROUP

By ETHEL AVILLA

The pros and cons of the descent of man as presented in George R. Stewart's "Man, An Autobiography," were discussed last Wednesday when members of the Decoto Discussion Group met at the home of Mrs. Lewis Musick. In his brief story Mr. Stewart spans the years before recorded history when, according to his theory, man was a foraging animal just come down out of the trees and of his progress through the ages up to the present time with speculation as to what changes and developments will take place in the future.

The concensus of opinion was that while the first man was probably a pretty crude individual, still he was a man possessing a soul void in animals and that like produces like.

Mr. Stewart calls his book a novel. It is light reading and was intended as such. Mrs. Louise Johnson led the discussion of this unusual but very interesting book.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bernie Joseph, November 1. Mrs. Dorothy F. Roberts, Alameda County librarian, will lead a discussion of the famous drama, "Ah, Wilderness," by Eugene O'Neill.

DOLORES SANTOS NAMES ATTENDANTS FOR NOVEMBER 12 CEREMONY IN SAN JOSE

Miss Dolores Santos of Irvington, who will become the bride of Joseph Roger Silva of San Jose on November 12, this week announced the names of her attendants.

Those who will precede her down the aisle of the Five Wounds Church in East San Jose at a three o'clock ceremony, are Elaine Joseph, maid of honor; and Joan Reynolds, Doris Bettencourt and Ellen Frates, bridesmaids. The bride-elect's sister, Nelda, will be the flower girl.

Edward Pereira, cousin of the groom, will be the best man. Joseph Pereira, Jack Machado and Gene Silva will be ushers, and Douglas Rodrigues will be the ring-bearer.

Dolores, a graduate of Washington Union High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Santos of Landing Road.

Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Silva of Fleming Avenue, San Jose, and a graduate of San Jose Technical High School.

NEW ARTISTS GROUP ORGANIZED HERE; TO HOLD FIRST MEETING ON OCTOBER 18

Mrs. Collear, who came over to this country from her native Belgium as a war bride, has been living in Hayward since her arrival in the United States. She is a member of the Hayward Art Association. A graduate of the Royal Academy of Brussels, she was admitted to the Academy at the age of ten because of her outstanding artistic ability.

Those who will be charter members of the new art group include Mmes. LeRoy Broun, Jack Stevenson, Edgar Van Scoy, George Ford, Stebler Loze, William Mette, Jed Oxborrow, William Dutra, William Humpert, Kenneth Berg, and the Misses Audrey Carmody and Dorothy Czerny.

SENIOR GIRL SCOUTS RESUME MEETINGS

The Senior Girl Scout Chapter of Washington Township this week resumed meetings after the summer vacation and voted a new name for their organization.

They have selected the name Whipplewolfs in honor of the two women who were responsible for getting the troop organized, Mrs. Harrie Whipple and Mrs. Don Wolf.

The first fall meeting was held Monday and the Scouts began the project of making their own uniforms, green gabardine skirts and white blouses.

ROLL CALL UNDER WAY

The National Roll Call of all Scouting Posts, Troops and Packs is now under way, District Commissioner Abe Atwood reported this week. Commissioners throughout Southern Alameda County are inspecting their units. Completed reports later this month will present a current picture of Scouting's active program and preparedness to serve in case of any local or national emergency, Mr. Atwood revealed.

MRS. F. V. JONES HURT IN TRUCK-AUTO CRASH

Mrs. F. V. Jones of Niles suffered minor injuries shortly before noon Monday when her car was struck by a large cement truck at the intersection of Morrison Avenue and the Niles-Mission highway.

Ralph Lester Reich, 27, Stockton, driver of the Motor Transport System truck, told officers that the Jones car slowed suddenly in front of his vehicle and as he swerved to pass on the three-lane highway his right front wheel struck the rear of the auto.

Mrs. Jones was taken to Fairmont Emergency Hospital in the Township ambulance.

THE TOWNSHIP REGISTER

The FARMERS CORNER

by Ralph H. Taylor
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

It is interesting to note, in this General Election year, that California is one of the very few states where voters are empowered to legislate directly for themselves on many issues through the initiative and referendum processes. And this uncommon power to do a great deal of his own lawmaking in the voting booth also imposes an uncommon degree of responsibility on the California voter for the kind of laws he lives under.

This year's November ballot will include far less than the usual number of proposed measures. Some of the propositions are highly controversial, and all of them are interesting to the student of democratic government.

Among the latter, Proposition No. 2 is unusual because it would amend the State Constitution to make it impossible for office seekers to obtain government jobs through the passage of any ballot measure. It would prohibit the naming of any individual to hold any office by means of any Constitutional amendment, law, or amendment thereto, which is submitted to and approved by the people.

Any such official positions, in other words, would have to be filled in the traditional democratic fashion—either by appointment by constituted executive powers or by direct vote of the people, as the case might be. This measure is not seriously controversial, and in all probability it will be passed—but it is interesting because of its uniqueness.

ISSUE OF THE COURTS

As with most legal matters, the provisions of Proposition No. 3, the interior court reorganization measure, is too complex for rounded discussion in this space. The basic argument offered by supporters of Number 3 is that it will simplify and expedite the administration of justice by establishing a uniform, streamlined system of municipal and justice courts throughout the state, with law-trained judges. Opponents take the view that court reforms should be the responsibility of the legislature and that the courts should be kept close to the people.

THE VOTING MEASURE

Proposition No. 4, affecting voting, is simple enough. Under present law, it is required that a voter must have 90-day residence in a county before he can vote in any given election. Proposition No. 4 would permit a newcomer to a county, if he has not lived there 90 days, to cast a vote in the county where he last had legal residence. There would appear to be no vital reason why a man should be barred from the polls because his moving day and election day chance to fall within a 90-day period.

LEGISLATORS' SIDE JOBS

The basic proposal of Proposition No. 5 is that members of the State Legislature be permitted to hold office and to serve as members of boards or commissions created to direct the spending of state funds. The intent of this measure is sound, but there is some belief that it may go much further than its proponents desired. Should Proposition No. 5 pass, some analysts contend that legislators would be in the unwise position of being able to supervise the spending of funds they appropriate for various boards and commissions, and would thus be combining legislative and executive functions, repugnant to the American system of checks and balances.

CLUB LUNCHEON BRINGS OUT CROWD

Approximately a hundred people attended the luncheon given Tuesday at the Country Club by the Hobby Section of the Club.

Those who were there seemed to be in accord that not only the luncheon—prepared by the Hobby Section members—was delicious, but that the entertainment which followed was unusual and interesting. It was an illustrated talk on celanese products, given by Mrs. Conway, a celanese products representative.

Carrying out the theme for the day, the club members used bolts of cloth draped in artistic arrangements, in conjunction with flower groupings, for the decor. On the tables were arrangements of exotic, tropical flowers grown, and contributed, by Mrs. Marie Silva of Thornton Avenue.

NEWARK CHAMBER TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Youth Center Building Tuesday, October 17, at 8 p.m.

effluent for a few years, but ultimately it will become saturated, refuse to take more water, as it will be sealed off, and well water will become polluted.

"The advantages of the plan are as follows:

"1. Sewerage system and disposal under continuing legally constituted responsible body.

"2. Grants to Tareyton Village under district, the power of eminent domain to obtain rights-of-way.

"3. Serves property owners along Jarvis Road, Alvarado Road and Centerville Road.

"4. Removes threat to contamination of well water.

"5. Disposes of sewage in bay waters after treatment.

"6. Permits immediate construction of houses, as sewage can be handled through Decoto plant for short period.

"7. Plan will readily receive approval from State Board of Health, State Water Pollution Board and Fish and Game Commission.

"8. Releases for sale land now used by Decoto for disposal of effluent."
